RE: Story Idea: 100 Blessing Baskets for Detroit Moms This Mother's Day

Dear [Name],

I wanted to share a community story that might resonate with your audience.

This Mother's Day, a group of Detroit volunteers is coming together to assemble 100 blessing baskets for mothers living in shelters and transitional housing. The baskets will be delivered to women at COTS, Sara's House, and Alternatives for Girls, just in time for Mother's Day weekend.

The details:

Empowerment Path Foundation is hosting a community assembly day on Saturday, May 2 from 11am to 3pm at The Locker Room on Livernois Avenue. Volunteers will personalize each basket based on wish lists submitted by the mothers themselves. On May 9, the baskets will be hand delivered to all three partner organizations.

Why this matters:

Single mothers face disproportionate rates of housing instability and economic hardship. For many of these women, a simple gift acknowledging their strength and resilience can be deeply meaningful. Our goal is to show 100 moms that Detroit sees them and celebrates them.

The opportunity:

We would welcome media coverage of either event. The assembly day offers great visuals: volunteers working together, baskets being prepared, and community members of all ages pitching in. The distribution day captures the emotional moment when mothers receive their personalized gifts.

I am happy to arrange interviews with our founder, volunteers, or partner organizations. Please let me know if this is something you would like to cover.

Thank you for your time and for the work you do highlighting stories that matter to our community.

Best regards,

Tina
